SIERRA MADRE, CALIFORNIA — THURSDAY, OCT. 18, 1956

TENNIS PLAYERS OF TOMORROW watch Mrs. Norma Lanwehr, far right, demonstrate a forehand stroke to Bettina Raphael, one of 35 youngsters who showed up at the tennis school in City Park last Saturday. The school is under the over-all charge of Mrs. Lanwehr, who gets assistance from members of the Sierra Madre Tennis Association. Last week the association was represented by Henry Gregor, for right in back row.

The school, which was set up by the Recreation Commission with the cooperation of the Tennis Association, is open to boys and girls in the fifth through eighth grades. They need only bring rackets; balls are furnished. Morning classes will be held every Saturday through Dec. 15, and a tennis tournament among the members will take place during Christmas holidays.

Planners Move Forward
On Master Tree ProgramRecreation Roadblock
Cleared Up at Meeting

The School Board, the Recreation Commission and the City Council got together Tuesday night and ironed out a series of misunderstandings which had plagued recreation and school board officials for several months.

At the same time, the three groups indicated informally that they would move toward establishment of a Parks and Recreation Department in City Hall, thus unifying the parks and recreation activities and centralizing their administration.

Primary purpose of the meeting was to clear up what City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington termed a "gross misunderstanding" arising out of a lack of proper communication between the three groups.

CENTRAL ISSUE was the recreation budget, which still has not been approved by the City Council although the program has been in operation since July 1. In fact, the recreation program will be operating with very little margin after this month, having expended almost $3,000 of the $3,420 allocated to them by the School Board.

Having not yet received Council approval of their budget, recreation commissioners were fearful that the city's half of their $6,840 allocation may not be forthcoming.

Council members present allayed these fears by explaining that the money had been put aside in the city budget, and all that was required now was formal approval of the recreation budget.

THIS HAD BEEN withheld, it was explained, because the Council had offered suggestions last spring for certain changes in the recreation program. Chief among these was the desirability, in the Council's mind, of added stress on activities for adult citizens. The Council felt that the program as set up was a "baby-sitting" plan weighted on the side of school children.

In the absence of a detailed answer to their objections, Council members had taken no action on the budget. A tentative meeting with the recreation commission and school board on the matter had been sidetracked by summer vacations, it was explained.

However, after listening to recreation commissioners explain in detail why the program was set up as it was, Council members indicated informally that the budget would be approved at its meeting next Tuesday.

ANOTHER MAJOR problem discussed by the three groups was brought about by the resignation two weeks ago of Recreation Director Philip Mitchell, who cited the increased demands of the job and its conflict with his work as sixth-grade teacher at Sierra Madre School.

After a round-robin reading aloud of the 1945 ordinance setting up the Recreation Commission—to clarify the point of responsibility—it was decided that the commission would choose the director subject to approval by the School Board and Council.

In the meantime, it was indicated that Mrs. Sidney Westfall, who has assisted Mr. Mitchell for the past several weeks, would take over the program until a new director can be found.

It was stressed that Mrs. Westfall would operate out of City Hall instead of the school, as in the past, both to relieve pressure on the school office and to prepare for a gradual move of the recreation department to the City Hall.

Sierra Madreans
Attend Parley of Civic Groups

Three officers of the Sierra Madre Co-ordinating Council attended the recent annual conference of the Los Angeles Federated Co-ordinating Councils at UCLA.

Mrs. Thomas W. Ames, Mrs. C. W. Symonds and James L. McCoy, of the local group, were among 2,000 who participated in workshops studying education, safety, health and hygiene, human relations, legislation, recreation, religion in community life and youth and adult co-operation.

The conference marked the 25th anniversary of the co-ordinating council movement.

Crew Rescues
Two Youngsters

The Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Crew came to the aid of two youthful mountaineers last weekend.

One was Joan Sawyer, 14, of Pasadena, who sprained her ankle while hiking in Santa Anita Canyon and had to be carried down.

The other was Roy Cheley, 12, who was stranded Sunday on a cliff in the same canyon. After 45 minutes of difficult rope work, the boy was landed safely on the trail.

Recreation
Plan Studied
By Group

In its first meeting of the year, the Sierra Madre Co-ordinating Council last week cited recreation as the chief cause of concern for local citizens.

Representatives from 23 local organizations attended the meeting.

The discussion centered on local recreational facilities and plans for the new swimming pool and recreation center on Sierra Madre Blvd.

According to James L. McCoy, president, the council felt that careful planning was vital to insure adequate facilities for all age groups, and some fear for the future of the city's recreation program was stirred by the recent resignation of Philip Mitchell as recreation director.

The council appointed a committee headed by William Hawkins to look into the entire recreation setup with a view to the council's lending a helping hand where it will do the most good.

All residents interested in this or other local problems were invited to attend the next regular meeting of the group on Nov. 6 at 8 p.m. in Room 12, Sierra Madre School.

Rattler Is Killed
In Yard Here

A baby rattlesnake was killed Monday in a back yard at 420 E. Laurel.

Mrs. Barney P. Huber, of the local address, noticed the small snake in her yard, and suspecting it might be a rattler, called police.

Sgt. Hiram Embree identified the trespasser and disposed of it.

Over-all Street Study
Gets Underway Here

The Planning Commission moved Tuesday night toward establishment of a master plan for tree planting in Sierra Madre.

A report from Gordon Whitnall and Associates on characteristics of some 65 trees, plus a listing of those considered most suitable for Sierra Madre, was received by the commission and will be acted upon immediately by the Forestry Committee, consisting of Commissioners L. W. Lisle and John T. Redlon.

The committee plans to make a street-by-street survey of the city and will recommend the trees most suitable for each.

First to be considered will be those streets whose trees are dying from the ravages of insects and fungus. When the plan is completed, trees will be replaced by those listed for the particular spot on the master plan. Eventually, under this system, all the streets will near conformity to a unified plan.

Planning Consultant Kay Kalicka told the commission that because of the smog problem, trees are not so long-lived as they used to be.

"They are holding their noses and refusing to breathe," he said. For this reason, he urged residents to water and fertilize the trees near them whenever it appears necessary, in the hopes of prolonging their lives.

Mr. Kalicka estimated that trees which used to remain healthy for some 40 years now expire after 15.

Suggested by the Whitnall report as most suitable for Sierra Madre were the following trees: Cinnamomum Camphora (camphor tree), Eucalyptus Leucocylon Rosea (white iron bark), Eucalyptus Sideroxylon Rosea (red iron bark), Ginkgo Biloba Fastigiata (male trees), Libocedrus Decurrens (incense cedar), Liquidambar Styraciflua (sweet gum), Magnolia Grandiflora Lancelata and Pistacia Chinensis (male trees for best foliage), Podocarpus Macrophylla (male trees) and Quercus Virginiana (southern live oak).

Planners Put Off Action on Playground

A School Board move to withdraw its petition to expand the Sierra Madre School playground was rejected Tuesday night by the Planning Commission.

The board in a letter had informed the planners it was withdrawing the petition on advice from the county counsel, who had informed the board it did not require the commission's approval. The letter asked the return of the $35 fee.

The Planning Commission, on the advice of the city administrator and the city counsel, requested the School Board to submit a written opinion by the county counsel to be reviewed by the city attorney, who in turn would submit a written opinion to the commission.

Pending receipt of such documentation, the matter was continued to the next regular meeting of the Planning Commission on Nov. 8.

Men in the Arts
Is Forum Topic

The next Arts Forum, sponsored by the Friends of the Sierra Madre Library, is scheduled for Oct. 26 at 8 p.m. in the Library Gallery. The subject to be discussed will be "Why Men Dominate the Arts."

Guest panelists will be Sister Magdalen Mary, chairman of art at Immaculate Heart College in Hollywood, and John Caruthers, Sierra Madre designer-jeweler. A third guest will be announced at a later date. Kenneth Sheets will moderate. The public is invited.

Donors Here Respond To Art Prize Appeal

Twenty-eight enthused donors to the Second Annual Purchase Prize Exhibition, scheduled to open Nov. 2 at the Library Gallery, have almost subscribed this year's total of $300, according to Dr. Nathan Jacobs, finance member of the Exhibits Committee of Friends of the Library.

"The warm response of the community to our second big exhibit is rewarding to those of us who have worked to bring it about," Dr. Jacobs said. "Only a few more donations are needed to put us over the top."

The exhibit of water colors will make a spectacular bow Nov. 2 when Sierra Madreans are invited to meet the 19 participating artists and their wives. Many of the exhibitors are nationally as well as regionally known.

Public balloting for the prize will begin that evening and last through two weeks of the one-month show. Again, voting will be by four groups: the public, a three-member jury of experts, the exhibitors and the Exhibits Committee.

Judges are Helen Wurde-man, director of the Los Angeles Art Association Gallery; Douglas McClellan, artist and teacher at Scripps College, and Kenneth Ross, Los Angeles municipal art commissioner.

Among the artists showing will be Rex Brandt, Edgar Ewing, Tyrus Wong, Edward Reep, Francis de Erdely, Noel Quinn and Phil Paradise.

Donors to date include: American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Edith H. Fish, Mrs. Jess Groomer, T. W. Neale, Mrs. Edward Clinton Young, Carl Hansen, Mrs. Isabelle Kanitz, Sierra Engineering, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel de la Torre, Happy's Liquor Store, Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Jacobs, Miss Grace Webber, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Benedict, Byron Hopper, jeweler, Mr. and Mrs. John Rasmussen, First Western Bank, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Colvin, Ost's Nursery, McKibben Furniture, Garland's, Sierra Madre Paint and Wallpaper, Roess Market, Sierra Madre Hardware, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Parker, Arnold's Hardware, Wistaria Bake Shop and Roberts Market.

TRAINS IN REICH

Pfc. Ernest E. Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Patterson, 88 N. Auburn Ave., Sierra Madre, recently participated in a field training exercise with the 11th Airborne Division in Germany. Pfc. Patterson entered the Army in March, 1955, and arrived in Europe last February.

Rally Set to Award $1,000
In Buy-at-Home Campaign

Winners in the Buy in Sierra Madre Campaign will be announced Friday night at a rally in Kersting Court that will get under way at 8:30 o'clock with music by the Community Concert Band.

The three cash prizes in the Chamber of Commerce sponsored program will be awarded at 8 p.m. by Mayor Charles H. James. First prize is $700; second prize, $200, and third prize, $100.

At the last count over a week ago the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Squad was in first place, followed by St. Rita's and Bethany Church in second and third places, respectively.

Following closely in fourth place was Ascension Church. Eight organizations polled more than one million votes in the 13-week campaign. The first three organizations alone had polled nearly 38 million votes at the latest count.

The votes for approximately one week are still to be tabulated. They could change the results since many people have held their ballots until the last week.

The campaign was supported by 48 participating merchants in Sierra Madre who awarded 100 votes for every cash dollar spent in their stores during the campaign. Many votes of large denominations came from the sale of houses and automobiles.

The original promoters of the campaign were Arthur Yale and Rachel Benson, who have organized similar drives in many other California communities.

Special mention must be made of Mrs. Peggy Lusman of the Sierra Madre Paint & Wallpaper. As chairman of the Chamber's Merchant's Division, Mrs. Lusman worked diligently to keep enthusiasm at a high pitch during the campaign. She also arranged for special lighting in Kersting Court for Friday night.

Service
Faces Cut
In Clients

The Sierra Madre Community Chest kicked off its current drive last night, and one of the agencies anxiously awaiting its success is the Family Service of Sierra Madre, which last week had to stop taking new clients because of lack of funds.

Family Service, which provides psychotherapy, guidance and counseling in family problems, will receive $550 if the current Chest goal of $9,000 is met. This amount, together with some $200 yearly in subscriptions, will barely meet the service's estimated obligations.

Failure of the Chest drive to meet its goal will mean curtailment of Family Service's non-profit activities, spokesmen for the local group said.

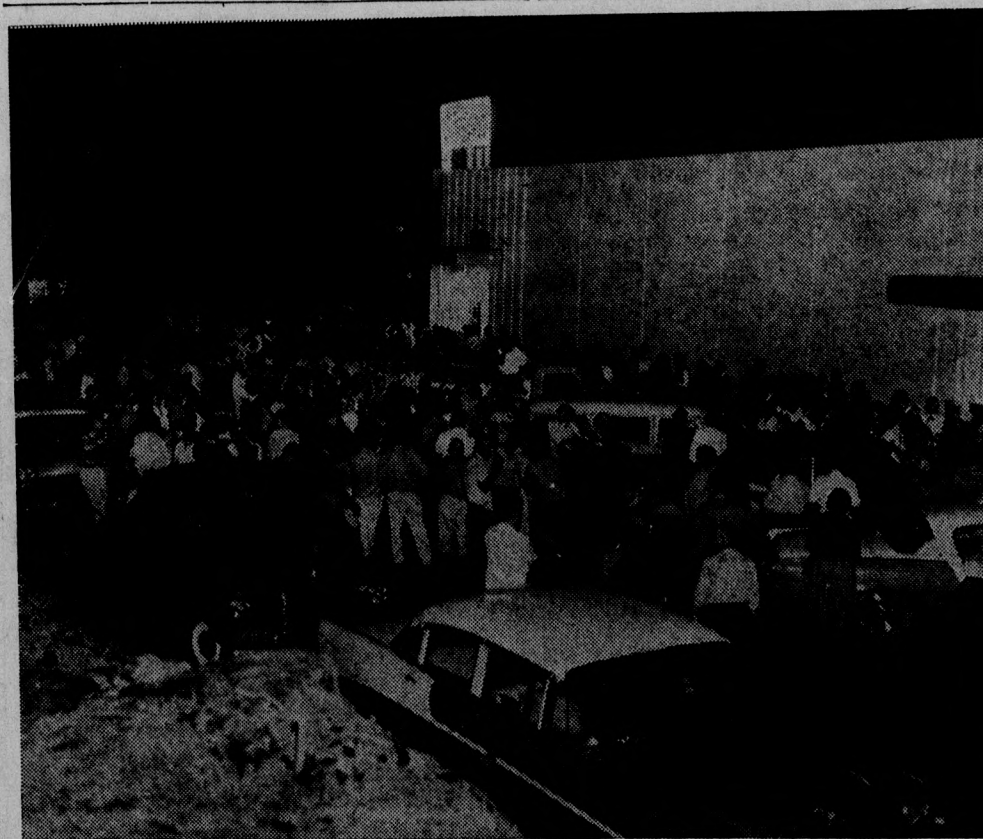

Family Service offers highly-trained services on a sliding scale of payment according to ability. For those who can pay nothing, the same quality of service still is available.

Staff workers are made available from Pasadena Family Service, with which the local group is affiliated.

Chamber Sets
Dinner Meeting

The Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce will hold a general membership and dinner meeting Oct. 24 at 7 p.m. in the Masonic Temple. President Robert H. Green announced yesterday.

Reports on membership, Christmas promotion plans and the Buy-at-Home Campaign will be discussed, Mr. Green said. He urged all Chamber members to attend.

We Need Proposition 4

More pure blarney designed to confuse the voters has been spouted this year over Proposition 4, known as the Oil and Gas Conservation Act, than over all the 18 other proposed constitutional amendments together.

The basic questions for voters to decide Nov. 6 is whether California needs a conservation act and, secondly, whether Proposition 4 meets this need, if it exists.

There is little doubt that California, now an oil deficit state, must conserve its resources. California, in fact, is the only major oil producing state without some type of conservation measure. It seems equally apparent that under the present system, where one operator in any pool can block unitization, a great deal of waste is inevitable.

By trying to get more than his share of the oil in a pool, one wasteful operator can force others in the same pool to resort to his methods.

After examining arguments on both sides of the question, it seems to me that Proposition 4 was conceived in good faith and is dedicated to the conservation of California's oil and gas resources.

Proposition 4 would create a California Oil and Gas Conservation Commission under which 75 per cent of the oil interests in a pool would be able to draw up a voluntary agreement for unitization.

The commission would have no authority to initiate proceedings. In addition, individuals or groups who feel their rights are being infringed would have full recourse to the courts for relief.

The most serious argument against the proposition is that it would create an oil monopoly by the major companies and force the small operators out of business.

This assumption is effectively answered by the act itself, which provides that each owner in a pool would share in every barrel of oil produced according to his predetermined interest. No owner, though, could deplete the pool at the expense of other operators.

Objections also have been raised that the proposition, if passed, will become part of the constitution and cannot be altered by the State Legislature. It would have to be taken to the voters all over again.

Authors of the measure have answered with assurances they will support in the next Legislature any sincere move to submit to the people an initiative giving the Legislature authority to amend the program if experience proves it necessary.

Other arguments advanced by opponents are based on pure emotion and thus cannot be answered by referring to the act itself.

They say, for example, that the proposition is socialist. Yet neither I nor any one else can ever recall Standard Oil Co. favoring socialism. The same is true of the other major companies, as well as the small ones, who are supporting the bill.

They say, also, that the majors are intent on seizing control of California oil so they can curtail production here while increasing it in Arabia, thus reaping thousands of dollars in additional profits at the expense of the American worker.

This contention, it seems to me, is pure drivel. It's hard to imagine any oil company so shortsighted that it would gamble everything on the Middle East in view of the situation there.

To believe these and other emotionally charged accusations, one must assume the major oil companies are nefarious leeches, and rather stupid leeches at that. Few people today, I'm sure, will swallow this line of reasoning.

So far an imposing list of individuals and organizations have endorsed Proposition 4. These include 65 California newspapers, the American Legion, the Amvets, Commonwealth Club of California, VFW, 19 labor unions, the San Francisco Taxpayers Association, Dan Kimball, former secretary of the Navy, and Brig. Gen. Warren T. Hannum, former state director, Department of Natural Resources. And the list here is far from complete.

It is estimated that Proposition 4 would provide for the eventual recovery of billions of barrels of oil, greatly increased revenues to the state, more employment and more complete enjoyment of one of California's most important natural resources.

It appears definitely in the public interest to vote YES on Proposition 4.—H.W.E.

Around and About

With

Edward Lloyd Voorhees

Some 150 years ago, Lord Byron, great traveler and poet, wrote of Rome: "The Goth, the Christian, Time, War, Flood, and Fire, have dealt upon the seven-hilled city's pride: she saw her glories star by star expire."

Rome had been like that many times before Byron wrote, but never since, to the same degree. She has revived and "gone modern."

Today, by her geographical position, her business and commerce, her vast subdivisions of new apartment houses, her large motion picture industry, her constant stream of tourists and pilgrims from all parts of the world, her art treasures and working artists, as well as by her illustrious history of 3,000 years and her religious and ecclesiastical status as the capital of Christendom, Rome more than ever justifies her title as the Eternal City.

Though her daily aspect falls somewhat short of the richly costumed and palatial splendors of the pagan Caesars, as we vision them through such motion picture films as "The Robe," the visitor's eyes in Rome today can still feast upon the sumptuous and the spectacular in both architecture and costume.

To name but three largest of many specimens of the former, one is the huge and unique Castle St. Angelo, which the Emperor Hadrian started building in A.D. 135 as his own tomb and that of his successors. Its square base measures 275x165 feet in height, surmounted by its circular tower 210 feet in diameter. It has been used as prison, Papal apartments, and is now a museum.

St. Peter's church (largest in the world of any sect), completed in the 16th Century, is also the most impressive in its proportions, the richness of its materials, the numbers and varied nationalities of its pilgrims.

The most impressive structure of the 19th Century from the standpoint of size, position and magnificence is the Victor Emmanuel monument to the unification of Italy, with its terraced acres of snow-white marble and gold, a unique ascending radiance, 208 feet in height, at the end of the long vista of the Corso.

Furious Battle Front

Lee Shippey asks
What Do You Think?

Dear Col. Gildart: I admire your skill in political argument and certainly do not question the sincerity of any of your statements. But I still think if half the young people of this country who are so overloaded with debt that they are close to desperation vote Democratic there will be a Democratic landslide.

It seems to me that our 400 billion dollar economy includes about 100 billion of inflation. Such conservative sources as Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine, and Readers Digest have shown us what usurious inflation there is in much of the "budget plan" credit.

Los Angeles County has many thousands of young people who have had to obligate themselves for a third of their lifetime to buy overpriced homes, and for two or three years to buy overpriced cars, refrigerators, etc., and are in no condition to withstand unexpected illness or misfortune.

Is not your serene confidence in the business outlook very much like that of those who, in '29, assured us prosperity was just around the corner?

True, we have safeguards now which our economy did not have in '29—Social Security, Old Age Pensions, Unemployment Compensation, Guaranteed Bank Deposits and the Security and Exchange Commission. I wonder, Colonel, if you were one of those who denounced all those things as Socialistic 25 years ago, but now are glad our country has them.

It is also true that at the moment we have more people employed than ever before—but of course we have more people. Every year our number of employable persons increases by some millions and naturally it takes more jobs to take care of a steadily increasing population.

But, my dear Colonel, do you know one big reason why we have so many persons employed? It is simply that the costs of living are so high that both husband and wife have to get jobs in order to get by and meet the time payments. The days when the man earned the living and the wife reared the children so they would not become delinquent are fading fast. Millions of wives simply can't afford to stay at home and rear the children.

Now about Mr. Eisenhower's place in history. I think you know he couldn't have been supreme commander in Europe but for the influence in world affairs of FDR and the recommendation of General Marshall.

Similarly, it was the Truman-Acheson influence which made him supreme commander of the NATO forces. In both jobs he performed superbly and we can all be proud of him for that.

But it was Truman who got the United Nations organized in San Francisco—and named the American bipartisan delegation including Taft and Dulles. It was Truman who got the Marshall Plan and Nato set up and also stopped communism in Greece and the Near East with the Truman Doctrine.

It was Truman who got the United Nations to warn the North Koreans that if they crossed a certain parallel it would be resisted as aggression, and backed the warning with force—setting an historic precedent which may already have begun to change the history of civilization.

At least, the U. N. still is our country's great hope for peace. Those are historic milestones—and what great decision has Eisenhower made in the last four years which has affected the history of the world?

Like Pershing, he was a great general and we honor him for that. But in politics he has not been great enough to defend Gen. Marshall nor his loyal supporter, Sen. Wiley, from the shameful attacks of Sen. McCarthy.

Rep., 21st District

Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles stopped briefly in our congressional district last week to inspect some of the small plants engaged in defense work and to learn first hand the problems which small firms face in doing business with the government.

I was fortunate to have the honor of introducing him to some 30 executives at a luncheon meeting where these problems came under discussion. The group included a cross section of the small but vital industries which do highly specialized and technical work for the Department of Defense.

In his remarks Quarles emphasized the tremendous load carried by the Air Force in trying to be fair with all firms, small and large, while at the same time trying to accomplish the most for the lowest cost to taxpayers.

"Four cents out of every dollar from the gross national income is spent by the Air Force alone," the Secretary pointed out. "The Air Force has to account for the spending of almost half of all the personal income taxes paid into the government."

"We are trying to balance this thing out to the best advantage of the country, and in so doing we need the encouragement and the enterprise of small business, which is a valuable part of the free enterprise system," Quarles added.

He declined to paint a rosy picture of the easing of tension between the allied countries and those behind the iron curtain.

"We are confronted by a danger larger than anything else we've ever faced," Quarles said bluntly. But he added: "I don't mean to say that this danger is imminent. Rather it is something that we'll have to face year in and year out for many years, despite the soothing kinds of syrups that are fed us from various directions."

Quarles refused to engage in a political discussion other than to say that an election year "forces the American people to take time to think about the big, important problems they face." He paid tribute to the "splendid team" in the Defense Department and said modestly, "we're trying to do the best job we can, and we're taking a businesslike approach to it."

I HAD THE PLEASURE of welcoming one of our newest and youngest citizens to the United States last week as the finale to a story of long personal waiting and complicated legislation in Congress.

Some time ago the Gorm Larsen family of La Canada sought my help in getting a private bill passed to enable their adopted daughter, Marianne, to come to America and live with them.

They had adopted the girl in Denmark, but it was impossible for them to bring her to the United States because of immigration red tape. Mrs. Larsen had to stay there to care for the girl, while Mr. Larsen returned to this country.

After much prodding and pressing among the departments, we finally managed to bring the bill out for a vote in the House, where it passed unanimously during the closing days of the session.

It was with great satisfaction that I went to the week to welcome Marianne and witness the climax of this international case.

Letters to the Editor Column

Dear Editor:

In the Sierra Madre News of Sept. 27 I read in Mr. Shippey's column the statement that young people in comparing living costs today with prices of 10 or 11 years ago are likely to feel that we are "being stuck, not by local merchants but by manufacturers and wholesalers."

Mr. Shippey has his opinions and he states them fearlessly, like a good American.

Since I first saw "What Do You Think?" I have always turned to it with interest and pleasure, though I often find myself in disagreement with what I read. Here at last I can agree with Mr. Shippey: That is the popular misconception, so potent and well-oiled is the Democratic propaganda machine.

A recent public opinion survey shows that a majority of the public believes that big companies make 14 per cent on sales. The fact?

Of the country's largest companies, more than half earn less than 6 per cent on sales, and of all American corporations the average net profit, after taxes and expenses is less than 4 per cent.

The columnist asks "How much more does our 400-billion-dollar economy of today buy us than our 200-million-dollar economy of 20 years ago?"

Well, first of all, our gross national product of 1936 was nothing like 200 billion. It was $2.5 billion. Anyway, the same survey pointed out another popular misconception along this line. Nearly 60 per cent of those making reply thought that prices have risen faster than wages since the end of World War II. The fact: Today's wages in manufacturing industry are more than 80 per cent above the average of 1946, while consumer prices are up about 40 per cent. And wholesale prices? They have increased slightly less than consumer prices.

At this point I am reminded of the study of the college examination question, "Define a lobster." The student's answer was "A lobster is a red fish that walks backward."

"That's fine," said the professor, "except that a lobster is not a fish, is not red and does not walk backward."

Economics is certainly one of the recklessly misdefined lobsters in this campaign.

The consumers' price index, which shows the cost of living to you and me, rose from 139.4 (in 1935-39 dollars) in 1946 to 189.8 in 1952, and under like it has risen only a shade—cost of living is about 3 per cent higher than when he came in. Most of us think that like did stop inflation, and that the Democrats were running away with our war bonds, savings and life insurance. At least that is what I think.

But it is often popular to misdefine the lobster. What is it Mr. Shippey's party dislikes: is it peace or prosperity? Well, if prosperity is sinful, then we are wicked indeed. And if peace be evil, like's "Atoms for Peace" and the open skies proposal are the devil's work. But Americans in general, I think, like prosperity and want a government that is friendly to it, under which labor gains are achieved without bitterness.

And when it comes to peace, anyone like Ike or Dick, who has seen an American boy, or even an enemy soldier, lying dead on a battlefield, most earnestly desires peace and knows something about how to maintain it.

That is something that neither Mr. Stevenson nor Mr. Kefauver has ever seen. C. R. GILDART.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

THERE'S A BIG DIFFERENCE
BETWEEN POLITICAL PARTIES

OUR REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATION HAS BROUGHT US

PEACE

... stopped the bloodshed in Korea and pursued a policy of strength, making plain our will to resist aggression BEFORE the event.

PROSPERITY

... civilian jobs increased since 1952 at twice the rate of the preceding four years.

... unemployment rate this September lower than in any peacetime September during the opposition's last 20 years in office.

... labor's share in our national income today is 70 cents out of every dollar—a record high for the last 20 years.

... a sound dollar—the cost of living has risen less than 3% under this administration, compared to the 50% rise during the last 7 years the opposition was in office.

PROGRESS

... Social Security extended to 10 million more workers.

... small business given a greater percentage of government contracts than ever before; anti-trust laws more strictly enforced.

... federal programs to advance the health of our people extended.

... aid to education sponsored, defeated by OPPOSITION controlled Congress.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

YOUR VOTE IS THE DIFFERENCE...

IT IS UP TO YOU!

What put the magic in the new kind of FORD?

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (118-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body ever built for a low-priced car. And no car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. Ford gives you the longest, lowest, low-priced car ever. Each graceful contour of its sculptured-in-steel body says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new-look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! Example: all Fairlane models, including sedans, have the look of a hardtop.

The value got greater . . . and the price is still Ford-low. The result—even more promise of buying a car that will keep its value high . . . a car that will stay worth more.

Sermon Series "On Judaism" To Be Continued

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel of the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel at Friday evening services this week will continue his sermon with the "Basic Concepts of Judaism."

To date he has discussed prayer as one of the basic concepts, pointing out that prayers are really for communing with God and were started back in the early ages when Jews were no longer living in their original homeland, and thus had only this way of keeping in touch with God. Then the next basic concept discussed was the synagogue and the relation of synagogue and prayer to Judaism.

Cantor Salo Blumenthal will assist with the services and will chant the prayers and hymns.

At the Oneg Shabbath following the services, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Alpert of Arcadia will be the hosts.

People never get too old to learn, but can't always understand.

VIEWSBy Toni Maurin

It is amazing how time settles on your shoulders and alters your way of life and thinking.

If, 10 years ago, someone had told me that I would be raising an orchid and enjoying it, or that I would be buying knick-knacks for a bird and then spending half my day spying on him to see if he used them, I would have said that the someone was out of his mind. Those things, I would have said then, were for the very ancient.

Well, I'm not (ancient, that is!), I do it, and I like it!

OLD HOUSE ROAD is fairly teeming with news items. Mesa King, the boxer dog owned by the Ira Lackeys of 1484 Old House Road, was a real success at the Pasadena Kennel Club Show at Brookside Park recently. He won First in the American Bred Class, won Winner's Dog, and also Best of Winners, which entitled him to two points towards his championship.

THE SAM MATLOFFS of 1590 Old House Road have broken down and started their swimming pool this week. This street will soon look like one big lake from the air.

THE DON C. Jaxtheimers of 1440 Old House Road took a recent weekend vacation with their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Winchester, and her son, Brian, to Laguna Beach.

I WAS HAPPY to learn that George Havlick of 1853 Kinneloa Canyon Road is home and recovering from an illness that had him hospitalized for a week.

THE ART WELSH family, who will soon be living in a new home on Sierra Madre Villa, are commuting from Lake Arrowhead until their house is completed.

CHARLES F. ROBINSON of 3340 Calvert Road returned this week from a 10-day trip that took him to Dayton, Wright Field, Washington and Chicago.

THE JAMES S. SMARTS of 1610 Sierra Madre Villa also have started a new swimming pool. Mrs. Smart said the very first day was kind of discouraging as they ran into a stump of an old palm tree and the fine print on the contract absolves the pool company of any expense in pulling it out.

MRS. HAROLD SMITH'S home at 3320 Calvert Road was the scene of a baby shower the other night. The party was given on behalf of Mrs. Jerry L. Smith, their daughter-in-law, and given by their two daughters, Mrs. Doralee Shawver and Mrs. Marilyn Hume.

SPEAKING OF BABY showers, Mesdames F. R. Anderson, Joseph Phillips, Norman White and Larry Garland held a shower at the Garland home at 1520 Old House Road for Mrs. George Clark. Among the guests were Mesdames George Holmes, Robert Steinbaugh, E. Marshall Harris, W. F. McComas, Joseph Phelps, Gardner Wilson, O. Kenneth Fuller, Ira Lackey, Don Jaxtheimer, Robert Mueller, Charles Goldsworthy, David Elmer, Ernest Maurin, D. G. Crandall, John Chapman and Aikman Armstrong.

League Will Study
School Administration

Hastings Ranch Unit of the League of Women Voters of Pasadena will hold its second meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Conrad Walburger, 510 Pembroke Dr., Oct. 25 at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Wilton Stewart will present material on "State, County and Local School Administration." This study shows how the state, county and local levels fit into the pattern of administration of schools in California. There will be a continuation of the study at the November meeting.

Mrs. Wilson S. Hines has announced literature pertaining to the subject for discussion will be mailed to League members in advance of the meeting.

All members are urged to study this material so that member participation will be wide and lively. Mrs. Lee Sanders will lead the discussion.

The meeting is open to the public. All interested persons are invited to attend the regular monthly unit meetings, which are scheduled on the fourth Thursday of the month at 9:30 a.m. For further information call Mrs. Ralph Gann at ELgin 5-6144 or Mrs. Carl Shafer at ELgin 5-3758.

Public Relations
Luncheon Oct. 25

Auxiliary members of the Foothill Branch, Los Angeles County Medical Association, will honor dentist and lawyer wives at their public relations luncheon Oct. 25 at noon, in Eaton's Restaurant, 1150 W. Colorado Blvd., Arcadia.

He will touch on the Los Angeles County Medical Association's work in the field of public relations, including sponsorship of the television shows, "Ask the Doctor" and "Medic," and the newly created American Medical Association Committee for Radio, TV and Motion Pictures.

Mrs. Walter Z. Baro, first vice chairman in charge of membership, has invited all doctors' wives in the San Gabriel Valley-Pomona area to attend and make application for membership.

The chairman, Mrs. George Frempter, will introduce a newly appointed board member, Mrs. Erling W. Naess, as Today's Health chairman.

I would like to say that the PTA drive was a big success but I can't. It was just FAIR. We could and should have done much better with every class getting 100%. Every class didn't get 100% but some went over that figure, which was wonderful.

The classes that arrived at the highest percentage in their grade levels and received the party were the 7th, Miss North (2 & 3) with 142%; 8th, Miss Rodgers (1 & 2) with 159%; Mr. Warren (4 & 5) with 150%; 10th, Miss Graves with 121%.

WILSON IS GOING to come home from the Football Circus with the White Football this year. The Football Circus will be Oct. 27 at the Rose Bowl. To win the White Football we have to sell tickets, play well and most of all have an organized and loud cheering section.

The tickets are on sale now and our student body is selling the tickets. If you would like some tickets get in touch with a Wilson student or call me.

This is the PTA's only money raising project and at that they only get half of the profits. Our student body gets the rest. We spend our half to feed a child overseas, support an Indian school or something on that scale. Each grade level votes on where to spend the money to help less fortunate children of our own age.

THE FOOTBALL FROLIC, our first dance, will be held tomorrow night from 8 to 11. Our football teams will be honored at this dance. Jerry Ogles' "Blue Notes" will furnish the music. The price is 40c at the bookstore and 50c at the door. The entertainment and hospitality committees are sponsoring it. What a Blast!

SUE HUBLY had a party last Friday night. Those invited were Gretchen Schulz, Butch Elcheberger, Marsha Raymond, Tana Vogel, Patus Dickson, Donna Schulz, Pat Henger, Ditty Dittberner, Prissy Watson, Zeke Toohey, Bucky Bucklen, Keith Owens, Jim Bonzi, Henry Rhone, Gary Palmer and Craig Wendell.

Girls! Girls! Come and join GAA. It's loads of fun and a chance to let off steam every Monday and Wednesday from 3:30 to 4:15.

Sports in Haste . . .

New High School in Ranch
Is Well Equipped for Sports

By Charles Ayres

What with all the activity going on in the area allotted to athletic fields at the new La Salle High School, one would suspect that the joint will be jumping in no time with all sorts of sports activities. Such is not the case, however, with the exception of intramural sports.

The new school, and a beautiful and well equipped plant it is, is presently undergoing $32,000 worth of landscaping which includes a football field, track, baseball diamond, and a large blacktopped area that will be partly used for basketball and volleyball.

Plans, hoped to be put in effect possibly within the next two years, call for a gymnasium on the west side of the present classroom structure. Until such a time as it becomes a reality, all the "indoor" sports activities will necessarily be relegated to the outdoors.

At present the enrollment consists of three freshman classes totaling about 130 boys. This in itself limits any interscholastic athletic activities.

If all goes well an additional three classes will be accepted yearly so that in three years La Salle will have a full complement of classes. By that time the gym may have become a reality and the authorities will have had an opportunity to study their needs and lay plans for an interscholastic sports program.

'Ten o'Clock'

Mrs. Robert Natzel and Mrs. Peter Lubisch will be hostesses for a "Philharmonic Ten o'Clock" Wednesday morning at the Natzel residence, 3765 Canfield.

The "coffee" is one of a series being held under sponsorship of the Pasadena Philharmonic Committee to acquaint newcomers throughout the San Gabriel Valley with the November-through-April orchestra season in Pasadena.

The 1956-57 Philharmonic season here has been billed as a "Conductors' Season," and will feature some of the world's great orchestra conductors.

The season opens Nov. 14, with Bruno Walter conducting. On Dec. 5, La Scala's Carlo Maria Giulini will conduct, with Michael Tree, young violin virtuoso, headlined.

Eduard Van Beinum, Dutch maestro, and new music director of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, is scheduled for the Jan. 16 program. On Feb. 13, Van Beinum will return, with John Browning, young pianist, being given special billing.

Georg Solti, famed Hungarian symphony and opera conductor, will appear March 13.

The season will close April 7, with the appearance of Artur Schnabel, one of the all-time greats among pianists. Alfred Wallenstein, former music director of the orchestra, will return to conduct.

Information on season tickets, which are obtainable at 25 to 50 per cent less than individually purchased seats, may be obtained from Mrs. Natzel or Mrs. Lubisch.

Classes are from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Children may enroll for Monday-Wednesday-Friday or Tuesday-Thursday classes.

OPENING THE SEASON at a luncheon recently were the following new officers of the Hastings Ranch Garden Club: from left, Mrs. Paul Hart, vice president and program chairman; Mrs. Don Alsop, treasurer; Mrs. Emil Barlow, president, and Mrs. Edwin Vail, secretary.

Auxiliary of Boys Republic To Hold Rummage Sale

The Pasadena Auxiliary of the Boys Republic will hold its fall rummage sale—often called the "World's Largest Rummage Sale"—Oct. 25 in the Pasadena Civic Auditorium at Green St. and Garfield Ave.

The doors of the Auditorium Exhibition Hall will open at 9 a.m. and close at 3 p.m.

Mrs. B. D. Lowe, president, said the sale will carry the lowest prices in years. A committee has been making a careful survey of rummage sales all over the San Gabriel Valley, she said, and a new pricing policy has been the result.

The Auxiliary, which has been active since 1907, is beginning its 49th year of activity for improvement of the school at Chino. Through their work the boys have received a new swimming pool, a new gymnasium, rebuilt cottages and other projects. The latest work to be undertaken is the establishment of a dental clinic at the school, which has been financially underwritten by the Auxiliary. Help has been given by several dental concerns, The Los Angeles Dental Supply Co., The Caulk Co., The C. J. Beyer Dental Supply Co. of Pasadena and The American Foundation for Medical Dental Science. It is expected that dentists of the San Gabriel Valley will staff the clinic with volunteers.

NUTRITION LECTURE
Dr. J. D. Walters will lecture on "Digestion and Indigestion" Oct. 22 at 8 p.m. in Harbeson Hall, PCC, under the sponsorship of Extended Day of PCC and the American Nutrition Society, Pasadena Chapter.
